DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 14.—The Cubs and the Tigers meet in the fifth game of the world championship series at Bennett Park this afternoon, and they were betting 2 to 1 in the corridors of the Cadillac and the Pontiac-train this morning that it would be the last.

The temporary fright that overtook the Cub backers when Pfister was beaten in the listless exhibition of Monday passed away yesterday when the Cubs, by more than the score shows, outplayed their rivals in the big series in the one clean-cut baseball contest that the world championship campaign has produced so far.

Among the real baseball men, the story of the proposed big trade between the Tigers and the Yankees was the sole topic. Jennings, this morning, refused to affirm or deny the story that he is to secure Chase and Montañez from the Yankees for the sacrifice of Mullin, Rossmann, Coughlin, Jones, and Kilfiter.

"I am playing a world championship series now, and I don't want to talk about any other," he said. "After this series is over I will talk deals to you as long as you will listen, but I really am not thinking about them now."

No Use to Yankees.

"Chase is of no use to the Yankees now, and probably never will be again after his desertion this summer. Morality is a good, useful player."

"On the other hand, New York will get a hard-hitting first baseman who, of course, does not compare with Chase as a fielder or an inside ball player. Mullin is a good pitcher, and that is the only bad feature of the trade for Jennings, who is going to get a number of good men that he cannot use, he is going to get a good thing for both teams that it is probably true," remarks one American League magnate.

He needs pitchers, and with Mullin gone and Donavan useless until the first of June, I don't see what he plans to do next spring, and unless he stiffens up his pitching curve through some other channel during the winter, he is going to get an awfully bad start next spring.

Davy Jones is, of course, a great outfielder. Detroit has three great outfielders without him, and he is too good a man to play on the bench. Coughlin is a good old man at the third sack and Kilfiter is a promising youngster."

HEALS S.S.S. SORES AND ULCERS

Sores and Ulcers are indications of impure blood. They show that the circulation has become infected with germs and poisons, which are being constantly discharged into the open place to irritate the delicate nerves, tissues and surrounding flesh and keeps the sore in a state of inflammation and disease. Whether these impurities in the blood are the result of some debilitating sickness, an old taint from a former disease, or whether it is hereditary bad blood, there is but one way to cure sores and ulcers, and that is to purify the blood. Washes, salves, lotions, etc., are often beneficial because of their cleansing, antiseptic effects, but nothing applied to the surface can reach the blood, where the real cause is, and therefore cannot cure. S. S. S. is the remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and removes every trace of impurity or poison, and makes a lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the circulation, so that instead of feeding the diseased parts with impurities, it nourishes and heals the irritated, inflamed flesh and causes the ulcer to fill in with healthy tissue by supplying it with pure, rich blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

FIELD IS SMALL; PLAYERS GLASSY

Complete Entry List for Women's Golf Tourney Is Given Out.

Though in point of numbers the field of entrants for the women's national golf tourney, to be held at Chevy Chase beginning October 19 is small, the list includes some of the best known players in the East.

In addition to the announcement in yesterday's Times that the Misses Margaret and Harriet Curtis, of Boston, would be among the players here next month, comes the news that Miss Mollie Adams, a formidable contender for the title in recent tournaments, will be in line.

Pennsylvania and Maryland each have seven entrants, while New York and New Jersey have but three apiece. Mrs. Charles Stout, who, as Miss Genevieve Hecker, held the title five years ago, has withdrawn her entry.

The full roster of players follows: Miss William West, Woodbury, C. C.; Miss Harriet S. Curtis, Essex, C. C.; Miss Margaret Curtis, Essex, C. C.; Miss E. H. Fulkner, Richmond, C. C.; Miss Eleanor W. Allen, Oakley, C. C.; Miss Pauline Firth, The C. C.; Mrs. J. M. Stoddard, Columbia, G. C.; Miss Carmelita Shreve, Brae Burn, C. C.; Mrs. George H. Converse, Brae Burn, C. C.; Miss Frances, Canada.

Georgetown's varsity football team will leave this evening for Raleigh, N. C., where they will meet the A. and M. eleven tomorrow afternoon.

The original date set for this game was next Saturday, but by mutual agreement of the managers it was decided to play tomorrow, as it is through the contest will draw a large attendance from the State fair now being held at Raleigh.

In the Tarheels, Georgetown has a ways found strong opponents. This year the Southerners are said to have an unusually fast team, though light, the same condition that prevails on the Georgetown eleven. A strategic battle, in which the Washingtonians will be given a chance to try out a varied assortment of trick plays, is looked for.

TAFT TO CARRY IOWA

That Taft will carry Iowa is the prediction of 75,000 or more was the prediction of a meeting of the Iowa State Republican Club of the District at Interstate Republican headquarters last night. Others who spoke were Joseph D. Sullivan, a Washington attorney, and Major William H. Fleming.

YALE'S LINE SLOW; COACHES ALA MED

Secret Practice Fruitless. Leaders Make Shifts as Last Resort.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—Yale's football program for the West Point game is working out poorly, and the coaches held a conference yesterday to debate ways and means.

Another afternoon's secret practice yielded only fruitless results. The two eleven worked half an hour in signal and scrimmage drill and not a score was made. The new formations are slow to be grasped effectively, and now some line changes are discussed. One was made during the practice yesterday, Cooney retiring at right guard and Paul Grenough, the 225-pound freshman guard and hammer thrower of last season, replacing him. Otherwise Yale's line-up in secret was exactly the same as on the day before. Hobbs will, of course, be unable to play against West Point, and Brown has been playing the position.

The center position is not developing to the satisfaction of the coaches, and "Phil Stillman," '34, who arrived yesterday, took charge of Biddle, who had been at center for a month. Stillman discovered a new center today in the person of Ted Lilley, halfback and former freshman tackle. Lilley, who is the son of the Connecticut Representative, showed excellent form as snap back, and will be tried further.

Wheaton, who has been ill with tonsillitis for three days, was better today, although he did not practice. The coaches now feel confident that he will be able to play against West Point.

BASKETBALL DEF.

The Potomac Athletic Club's basketball team, of Potomac City, Va., has organized for the season and wants to arrange games with teams in the District and vicinity averaging 115 to 130 pounds.

DEBTORS' COURT AWAITS MOGULS

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Members of the National baseball commission, including Ben Johnson, Harry C. Pullman, and "Garry" Herrmann, will have to appear in the debtors' court as soon as the world series is over, because Joseph B. Tinker, shortstop with the Cubs, failed to pay a cigar and saloon bill when he quit the saloon business on the West Side a couple of years ago.

Citation for Tinker was issued yesterday, and the members of the National commission were named, because they have control of the world series receipts, in which Tinker will have a share amounting to at least $2,000 if the Cubs win one more game.

The citation was issued by Municipal Judge Hume, on the petition of Charles Glincochin, a liquor dealer, who has been attempting to collect a judgment for $350 against Tinker.

SECURE GOOD COACH FOR THEIR RUNNERS

Jack Carpenter, Olympia Victor, Booked for Instructor of Y. M. C. A. Athletes.

Jack Carpenter, one of the fastest cinder-path athletes ever turned out in these parts and member of the Olympic team that competed at London, has been secured as track coach by the Young Men's Christian Association, and will in a few weeks take charge of the indoor squad and get them in shape for coming meets.

The team last year was singularly successful in all the meets in which it participated, and still being intact, should be greatly strengthened and improved by the influx of new material and a coach. The association colors will be seen in all the local meets this winter and numerous inter-city competitions with the Baltimore branches of the association.

Allege Attendance Figures Look Too Small for Crowds.

DEMAND A CHANCE TO VERIFY REPORT

Chicago and Detroit Teams Unite in Asking for Representative at Turnstiles.

DETROIT, Oct. 14.—Both Chicago National and Detroit American League ball players are making loud complaints of unfair treatment in regard to the business end of the world series games. They are not allowed a representative at the turnstiles, and therefore cannot get actual figures on the attendance.

They say that in Chicago the Monday attendance was given out as 14,543, but that unless the attendance given out for the league games all season has been grossly padded, there were at least 3,000 more persons there.

On Labor Day here, the official figures on the afternoon attendance were 15,002. There were a whole lot of people standing up, but there is seating room in Bennett Park for between 9,000 and 10,000 persons. In addition to this regular seating room, circus seats were brought here from Chicago for the world series guaranteed to seat 8,500 persons.

Yesterday it looked, from the playing field and from the stands, as though under ten thousand people could not have been crowded upon these seats by any hook or crook. Even as it was, there were a goodly number of fans standing in right field. If the Labor Day attendance was 15,000, there were 3,000 in attendance today, the players claim, or else half of the people at the big games here always have stood up and been uncountable.

Commission May Take Charge Next Season

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—It is probable that the National commission will take the distribution of tickets for the next world championship baseball series out of the hands of the clubs engaged in the games.

This is a result of the number of tickets that have been allowed to get into the hands of speculators for the games between Chicago and Detroit played here, conditions having been better in Detroit.

Thousands have tried to buy tickets for the games here, only to be told that none were left, although speculators offered tickets before they were on sale to the public. As a result the attendance has been very small, and there have been so many complaints from members of the commission that drastic action will probably be taken in time to make a reputation of such trouble impossible next year.

TWO NEW TWIRLERS FOR BLUE AND GRAY

Local Pitching Stars Should Be Valuable Assets to College Nine.

Johnny Mullin, crack twirler of the Atlantic and Commissioner teams last season, and "Ske" Balzar, mainstay of the Interstate aggregation, are at the Georgetown law school and will be candidates for the baseball team next spring.

Both boys have a wide reputation in amateur baseball circles, and if they work up to their last season form should make valuable additions to the Blue and Gray outfit.

Mullin attracted some little attention as a runner while at a local high school and intends to try out with the cinder path aspirants at the West End institution.

SULLIVAN HOLDS BALDWIN TO DRAW

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It will take more than six rounds to decide who is the better fighter, Matty Baldwin, of Boston, or Kid Sullivan, of Washington.

The lads fought six fast rounds to a draw last night, and neither could gain an advantage. It was a hard-fought contest, and each tried desperately for a knockout, but neither was able to even land a knockdown.

G. W. U. HAS HOPES OF RECORD ELEVEN

Training Table Will Be Started Soon—Showing in Early Games.

Compared to former years, the beginning of the present football season at George Washington augurs well for a record-breaking season.

The downtown institution has already scored 75 points in three games, against Fort Myer, 35; against Western Maryland, 18, and Eastern College, 21. None of the George Washington opponents scored a single point. Last year's George Washington University scored but 23 points in the entire season—not half as many as has been chalked down for the local institution this year.

Owing to the breaking of the athletic relations between Georgetown University and George Washington, there will be no game between the two great rivals this year. But a source of comparison may be found in next Saturday's game, which is to be played between George Washington University and Baltimore Medical teams, at American League Park. Georgetown won over the Medicos last Saturday by 21 to 4.

Despite the excellent showing made this early in the season by the "W" men, there has been a lamentable lack of applicants at the George Washington University field for the practice and scrub work. Manager Base, of the football squad, is at a loss for scrimmagers, and finds it necessary to resort occasionally to the high schools of the city for men to oppose his line.

The inevitable "training table" for the football men will be started this week. Well, the tackle who starred last year in the Georgetown game, has promised to report for practice work. Wilson, of the freshman law class, a man of considerable experience, weighing 190 pounds, and McPhail will probably appear this week. Crafts was somewhat out of condition last week, but both he and Captain Sommers should be in good form within a day or two. P. Hooten, erst substitution for fullback, has added considerable strength to the team since appearing for practice work. Elkhoff will take Waldo Pearce's place at center.
